POST OFFICE BUILDING
MIDDLESBORO, KENTUCKY

OCT 20 1941

Dear Sir:-

We wish to inform you of the opportunities which the Naval Reserve is offering to those who can qualify for enlistment. Your local draft board has agreed to cooperate with us to obtain for you a position in which your training and experience can best be used in the interest of National Defense.

The higher ratings of the Naval Reserve, with pay ranging from $21 to $169 per month, are open to those who have special training or experience. Men with experience in almost every trade and profession are needed to fill vacancies in the rapidly expanding U.S. Fleet. However, they will be released from active duty when the present emergency is over.

Men between the ages of 17 and 50, who are of good character, and who possess the moral, educational and physical requirements, may be enlisted in ratings corresponding to work they are now performing in civil life. They must have no dependents or be able to support those they have on the pay of the rating for which enlisted.

Men between the ages of 17 and 36 may be enlisted as Apprentice Seamen to attend school for Metalsmiths, Machinist's Mates, Electrician's Mates, Carpenter's Mates, Storekeepers, Signalmen, Radiomen or Yeomen (clerical force). The initial pay for this class of men is $21 per month. Four months after enlistment pay is $36 per month. Food, lodging, medical and dental attention, and the initial uniform outfit are furnished. There is ample opportunity for rapid advancement in any of these lines.

APPLY TODAY.

Your local Navy Recruiting Office is located in the Post Office Building, MIDDLESBORO, KENTUCKY.

Hours: 8:30 to 4:00 Week-days.
8:30 to 12:00 Saturdays.

A post card stating your age, qualifications and physical condition will obtain more complete information.

Very truly yours,

Hindman, Kentucky
(STAMP OF LOCAL BOARD)

February 2, 1942

Dear Sir:

You, James Still have been selected to meet at the Big Draftler School-house in your district on Monday, February 16, to register all persons appearing before you on that date for registration. Some few days before that date February 16, come to the Local Draft Board Office, Hindman, Ky., and get instructions and supplies.

On this date all schools will close in accordance with instructions from J. W. Brooker, State Superintendent, so all may register and help others register. I feel that teachers and others as well will be glad to help by meeting at the school houses all over the county and see that all are properly registered.

Those who happen to be in Hindman on this date may go to the Courthouse and get registered. All male citizens born on or ~~before~~ after February 17, 1897 and on or before December 31, 1921 who have not previously registered must register. So go to any registration place that is most convenient and get registered.

Yours very truly

OFFICE OF NAVAL OFFICER PROCUREMENT
MISSOURI PACIFIC BUILDING
210 NORTH 13TH STREET
ST. LOUIS, MISSOURI

January 30, 1943

Dear Sir:

In co-operation with the Alumni Association of the University of Illinois we should like to bring to your attention, as a graduate of Illinois, the opportunity of becoming an officer in the United States Naval Reserve.

The rapid and continued expansion of the Navy Department has created a need for men trained in a wide variety of technical and business occupations. While it is not possible to detail all of the services in which the Navy needs officers, a brief summary of the Navy's officer requirements is presented to you.

Men with training and experience in the aeronautical, civil, mechanical, electrical or other special engineering fields may be considered for commissions in the engineering classifications. Assignments after training will be largely in engineering duties at the various Naval shore bases and depots. Applicants in the technical classifications must be between the ages of 21 and 50 years, depending on the type of service for which the applicant qualifies.

Those with college training in liberal arts and in business administration with experience in the fields of accounting, purchasing and general business organization and administration, may qualify for appointment in the Supply Corps or for other administrative duties. In the cases of those applicants whose particular experience may not be directly related to Naval service, the Navy will undertake to train them for a specific sea duty. The maximum age limit for these sea duty assignments is 38.

In addition to the technical and general duty types of assignments, the Navy has a wide variety of places available for men skilled and experienced in various specialized fields. These specialized assignments include such duties as navigators, aerologists and meteorologists in the Bureau of Aeronautics, technical and engineering instructors for training schools, clergymen for the Chaplain Corps, doctors and dentists for the Medical Corps, as well as many others.

If you are interested in detailed information regarding appointment in the Naval Reserve, you are invited to call at this Activity. Should your circumstances be such that you are not personally interested, it is suggested that you advise others who may be qualified that they may discuss their qualifications with an interviewing officer at this Activity at any time.

Where a personal call is not convenient, interested individuals are invited to address a letter to this Activity, setting forth all pertinent qualifications. These letters will be given prompt consideration.

Very truly yours,

Lansden McCandless
Lieutenant Commander USNR.

S/Sgt Still:

Nothing personal, please understand, but why in the hell do you people down there always refer me to AR'S or SO'S and the like, are we mind readers?

Concerning Blose:

1. We were not included on your distribution list, at least not at the time of the transfer of those men including Blose, therefore we had no SO to refer to. A copy was obtained from one of the men included in the Transfer.

2. Upon check of these men we found the following named enlisted men to be Absent Without Leave (AWOL), but inasmuch as we knew that the plane had not once landed enroute from Accra to here, we believed that the men missing could not have jumped from the plane, thereby derieving that there was some excuse made legitimate thru your office.

- a. Mack Lyon
- b. Norris Hensley
- c. ~~Arthur R. Blose~~

3. Knowing that some excuse existed, we immediately forwarded a letter (attached in true copy) requesting disposition of this group of men. TO DATE, WE HAVE NOT received any reply.

4. The only indication to the status of these men was received thru SO 50, par 1, Hq 8th ADG, dated May 22, 1943, AND THAT DID NOT INCLUDE A. R. BLOSE. With no reply to attached letter, no information of any kind, what are we expected to do?

5. In tomorrow's M R, I will pick Blose up abs sick Accra, which will bring our strength of enlisted personnel to 106. Please see if you can't arrange in some way, that in the future, on incidents such as this, we be included on distribution, that we be informed of cases such as "Blose's" where a man is supposed to have been transferred, yet not arrived, and no reason submitted. We ARE NOT MIND READERS.

6. This is nothing personal against you Still but am merely trying to show you what we are up against.

Sincerely,

C. J. Iadonisi

MATTHEW 28 : 1-10

1 Now late on the sabbath day, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre.

2 AND BEHOLD, THERE WAS A GREAT EARTHQUAKE; FOR AN ANGEL OF THE LORD DESCENDED FROM HEAVEN, AND CAME AND ROLLED AWAY THE STONE, AND SAT UPON IT.

3 His appearance was as lightning, and his raiment white as snow:

4 AND FOR FEAR OF HIM THE WATCHERS DID quake, AND BECAME AS DEAD MEN.

5 And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye; for I know that ye seek Jesus, who hath been crucified.

6 HE IS NOT HERE; FOR HE IS RISEN, EVEN AS HE SAID. COME, SEE THE PLACE WHERE THE LORD LAY.

7 And go quickly, and tell his disciples, He is risen from the dead; and lo, he goeth before you into Galilee; there shall ye see him: lo, I have told you.

8 AND THEY DEPARTED QUICKLY FROM THE TOMB WITH FEAR AND GREAT JOY, AND RAN TO BRING HIS DISCIPLES WORD.

9 And behold, Jesus met them, saying, All hail. And they came and took hold of his feet, and worshipped him.

10 THEN SAITH JESUS UNTO THEM, FEAR NOT: GO TELL MY BRETHREN THAT THEY DEPART INTO GALILEE, AND THERE SHALL THEY SEE ME.

ROTATION AND RETURN OF MILITARY PERSONNEL AS INDIVIDUALS (EXCLUSIVE OF AIR CREW PERSONNEL) ON DUTY OUTSIDE CONTINENTAL UNITED STATES.

The following policies and procedures are established in applying the provisions of unnumbered War Department Circular, subject as above, dated 28 June 1943.

1. Recommendations for return of personnel to the United States will not be considered until an individual has completed at least twenty-two (22) months continuous overseas service (continuous overseas service in this connection will not be affected by short periods of temporary duty in the United States, except that such time will be excluded in computing the 22 months). Exceptions may be recommended under paragraphs 2b(2), 2b(4), and 2b(5) of the War Department Circular.
2. Preference will be given to officers and enlisted men who have been overseas longest, and particularly to those whose health has been adversely affected in line of duty, but not to a degree requiring hospitalization.
3. Personnel to be returned for hospitalization are not governed by this circular. Such cases will be handled through normal medical evacuation channels as outlined in separate instructions.
4. Officers will not be recommended who are awaiting disciplinary action or reclassification proceedings. Paragraph 8 of the War Department Circular will govern in those cases.
5. Normally, enlisted men tried and convicted by courts-martial will not be recommended for return until six months have elapsed after the sentence approved or adjudged has been completed. Time lost under AR 35-1440 and AW 107 will not be included in these cases.
6. Normally, all personnel will be considered for return upon completion of twenty-two (22) months overseas service, and an individual will not be excluded for the sole reason that he is occupying a key position.
7. Recommending authorities, to be so designated in separate instructions, will submit consolidated reports to arrive at this headquarters by the first day of each month on forms substantially as attached (Appendix "A"). These reports will include all individuals recommended for return to the United States under the provisions of paragraphs 2b(2), (3), and (6) of the War Department Circular. All officers except colonels will be included on the same report. Colonels at such time as they become eligible may make application for return by individual letter through channels to this headquarters. Separate reports will be made for white and colored enlisted men. Each list will remain active until the recommending authority is notified by this headquarters to the contrary. Substitutions, deletions, or additions will not be made after consolidated report is submitted unless the circumstances are exceptional.
8. Each individual recommended will be given an opportunity to request an extension to his tour of duty in the Middle East prior to submission of the report to this headquarters. The individual's request with recommendation of the commanding officer concerned will be attached to the report, but the name will not be excluded from the list. However, for each individual requesting an extension, the name of a substitute will be listed as such on the report. When a request for extension is approved, the individual concerned will not again become eligible for rotation to the United States for ninety days thereafter.
9. Personnel to be returned for emergency reasons under paragraph 2b(4) of the Circular will be made the subject of a separate communication, which may be submitted at any time. Detailed reasons necessitating return will be furnished in each instance.

10. The number of individuals to be returned monthly will be based on one-half of one per cent of the assigned strength of the command as of the date of submission of the report. The following tables of percentages in respect to officers and enlisted men are based on strength in the entire theater by grade. In commands where the ratio of grades is not in conformity with the following tables they will be revised accordingly:

a. Officers - 10%. The quota for officers will be broken down by grade into approximately the following percentages:

Colonels - - - - -	2%
Lt. Colonels - - - - -	4%
Majors - - - - -	10%
Captains - - - - -	27%
1st Lieutenants - - - - -	39%
2d Lieutenants - - - - -	16%
Warrant Officers - - - - -	2%

b. Enlisted men - 90%. The quota for enlisted men will be broken down by grade into approximately the following percentages:

M Sgts and 1st Sgts - - - - -	2%
T Sgts - - - - -	5%
S Sgts and Tec 3's - - - - -	11%
Sgts and Tec 4's - - - - -	21%
Cpls and Tec 5's - - - - -	27%
Pfc's - - - - -	15%
Pvts - - - - -	19%

11. Replacements for personnel rotated under the provisions of this directive will be automatically furnished in grade, normally from the United States, and will not be included in regular monthly personnel replacement requisitions. It is the responsibility of all commanders to insure that promotions are not made to fill vacancies created by rotation. Rotated personnel will not depart from the theater until replacements in grade have arrived from the United States.

12. Except as provided for in the case of colonels in paragraph 7, above, individual applications to return to the United States under the provisions hereof will not be made except for emergency reasons. All such applications will be intercepted and returned to source by the first headquarters receiving them.

AIR TRANSPORT COMMAND
INFORMATION TO PASSENGERS

1. IN connection with your travel via Air Transport Command operated aircraft, certain things will be expected of you that will contribute to a safe and pleasant passage for both yourself and your fellow passengers. Most of these requirements have their basis in Army Flying Safety Regulations; others are based on Army Regulations dealing with security and international law.

2. Pilot in Command: The pilot of an Army Aircraft is in command control, exercising complete jurisdiction over all matters pertaining to safety and security. His decisions are final while the plane is on the ground, in flight, or in the event of a forced landing. Certain flights will have as a member of the regular crew complement a Flight Traffic Clerk. In the Central African Division the Flight Radio Operators are designated as Flight Traffic Clerks. Flight Traffic Clerks are representatives of the authority of the pilot in maintaining cabin discipline and compliance with flying safety and security regulations.

a. Required Use of Safety Belts: Passengers will immediately be seated and fasten safety belts. Passengers will remain seated, with safety belts fastened, during taxiing and takeoff and for at least five minutes thereafter. Passengers will be seated and fasten safety belts at least five minutes prior to landing and keep them fastened until aircraft has come to a complete stop. Seat belts will also be worn during turbulent weather or upon instructions from a member of the crew.

b. Passenger Movement Aboard Aircraft During the Flight: An aircraft is loaded to permit level flight and maintain best gliding angle in event of loss of an engine. Passengers moving from their seats to the rear tend to destroy this balance, setting up dangerous flight conditions. Passengers are therefore, requested to avoid congregating in one location or going to the tail of the aircraft when someone else is there. Passengers will not open emergency exits, hatches, or doors opening to the outside during flight unless directed by the pilot or a crew member.

c. Smoking Rules: Smoking, striking matches, or the use of any device producing flame, is prohibited within 70 feet of any aircraft while on the ground. Smoking is prohibited aboard certain types aircraft at all times, and on other types is permitted only under certain conditions and in specific compartments. For this reason, smoking will be permitted only when authorized by the pilot or his representative. This rule is to be strictly adhered to as it is for your safety. In many instances gasoline tanks are carried in the cabin and may give off fumes which are highly inflammable and explosive.

d. Disturbance of Cargo: Passengers are forbidden to disturb any cargo or baggage (even their own) when stowed and tied down in the aircraft. Any shifting or loosening of tied down cargo may endanger the entire aircraft. Under no conditions may any cargo or mail be tampered with. Failure to observe this rule subjects the offender to disciplinary action.

e. Use of Cameras: Passengers will not be permitted to use cameras aboard Air Transport Command aircraft without special permission from authorized Air Transport Command or Theater Headquarters. Cameras may be transported providing they do not contain film and further, that they are carried within baggage and not removed therefrom during flight.

f. Misuse of Emergency Survival Equipment: Emergency equipment including life rafts, life belts, and kits are carried solely to assist in survival in the event of emergency conditions. Damaged or mislaid survival equipment may cost lives. Passengers are prohibited from utilizing such equipment for "comfort" purposes or under any other conditions other than emergency. Blankets have been placed aboard for your convenience.

g. Prisoners of War: No passengers, civilian or military, will be allowed at any time to converse or communicate in any way with Prisoners of War or Civilian Enemy Internees being transported on the plane. Any necessary communication must be done through the accompanying armed guard.

h. Crew Compartments: Passengers will not enter the Crew Compartment except on specific invitation by the Pilot, nor are they allowed to interrupt or interfere with members of the crew in the performance of their duties.

i. Flight Traffic Clerks: The Flight Traffic Clerk in addition to other duties, is assigned as a crew member to administer to passenger comfort, maintain cabin discipline to assure a pleasant trip, and perform "housekeeping duties". Please assist him in keeping a clean and orderly cabin.

j. Personal Effects Carried Aboard by Passengers: Before you deplane, either at change points enroute, or upon arrival at destination, make sure that your baggage and personal effects are removed from the aircraft.

k. Military Information: Information pertaining to operation of Air Transport Command routes, installation, equipment, plans and movement of aircraft is vital military information and should not be discussed.

l. Lavatory and Airsickness: There is a lavatory on board for your comfort. The Flight Clerk will show you its location. In case of airsickness, accompanied by nausea, there are facilities in the ship for your use.

m. Spraying of Aircraft: All transport aircraft will be sprayed before landing at all stations. For your comfort it's suggested that a handkerchief be placed over nose and mouth during the actual spraying.

n. The use of intoxicants or drugs during flight is prohibited.

o. MD Form #81 (Immunization Register) and PT-41 (Ticket) should be readily available for inspection at all times.

1. As you are undoubtedly aware, all persons including military personnel, are subject to the laws and regulations of the United States Customs when entering the United States or its possessions and territories. While it is true that the Congress has provided certain exemptions from the payment of duties to members of the Armed Forces, it is equally true that there are certain requirements that still must be met. The following, while not attempting to be a complete synopsis of these customs laws and regulations, will be helpful as a general guide.

a. All persons arriving in the United States, whether residents or non-residents, military or non-military, are required to prepare a declaration listing thereon all articles purchased or otherwise acquired abroad. At the last station prior to arrival in the United States or at Hickam Field, Hawaii, the Priorities and Traffic Officer will hand you the required declaration. In some Wings this declaration will be handed to you by the Flight Traffic Clerk.

b. In preparing this declaration, you are required to list thereon all articles acquired by you while abroad, whether by purchase, gift or otherwise. You are required to state the price actually paid for all articles either in the currency of actual purchase or its equivalent in United States currency. Insofar as gifts are concerned, you are required to state the fair value of the article in the country of acquisition. Neither the purchase price nor the declared value of the gifts will necessarily be the dutiable value as the United States Customs Appraiser will make due allowances in the event that the declared value is considered to be high. It is important to list all articles acquired abroad as any article not declared subjects it to Customs seizure and the imposition of penalties and fines.

c. In order to facilitate your Customs examination all articles acquired abroad should be placed in one container if possible.

2. Certain Exemptions from Duties:

a. Public Law 633 authorizes the free importation into the United States or any of its possessions of the personal and household effects of persons evacuated to the United States under Government orders and of persons in the service of the United States (military and civilian), which are forwarded to the United States by reason of Government instructions regarding the movement of the owner of the articles. This law is applicable to your own effects without limitation as to their value, if you are travelling under Government orders, and it includes articles owned by you and brought with you on your return for use by you as gifts to others, but does not include articles bought for the account of others or for sale.

b. For such individuals as are not covered by the previous paragraph, the following exemption is applicable if a resident of the United States: Under paragraph 1798, Tariff Act of 1930, if you are a resident of the United States, you may bring in without the payment of duty, personal and household effects and professional books and instruments taken by you out of the United States, and articles up to $100 in value acquired abroad for personal or household use, but not bought on commission or intended for sale provided you have been outside the United States on the trip on which they were acquired for not less than 48 hours, have not had such an exemption within a period of 30 days, and you list each such article on your baggage declaration even though it does not accompany you. Not more than 100 cigars nor more than one wine gallon of alcoholic beverages may be included in this exemption within a period of 30 days, and you list

c. Gifts purchased and sent from abroad through the mails are delivered free of duty to the recipient providing that the value of the gift does not exceed $50 and it is not intended for sale or resale. You are not limited in the amount of gifts so sent, but merely are exempted from payment of duty should the value not exceed $50. Shipments valued at more than $50 may be sent to the United States, but duty will be assessed on the value in excess of $50.

3. Payment of Duties:

Only United States currency or such checks as may be acceptable to the Collector of Customs will be accepted in payment of duties.

4. Marking Requirements:

Customs regulations require that all articles except those intended for personal use and not for sale, capable of being marked must be marked in as indelible a manner as possible, with the country of origin. When marking is required you may mark the article yourself or attach a label or sticker to such items as linens.

5. Prohibited Importations:

There are a number of articles which are prohibited by law to be brought into the United States. Among the more prominent are the following: Opium and narcotics, birds of paradise, aigrettes, parrots, products of convict labor, lottery tickets, obscene or immoral pictures-publications or films, gold; liquor candy, absinthe. Should you have a particular article in mind about which you are doubtful, see the nearest United States Consul who will assist you in determining whether it may be imported.

6. Restricted Importations:

All plants and unprocessed plant products, bulbs, roots and seeds, animal or animal products, may not be imported into the United States, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, Alaska, or from Puerto Rico, Alaska, Hawaii to the United States, unless a permit is secured from the United States Department of Agriculture. In the event that you were unable to secure a permit abroad, you should make certain that all the above restricted articles are reported to Customs Officers at the first port of arrival in the United States, its possessions or territories in order that they may be detained until passed upon by officials of the Department of Agriculture.

7. Unaccompanied Baggage to Follow by Air:

In the event that for some reason it is impossible for all of your baggage to accompany you, make up your Customs declaration in duplicate listing thereon, all articles contained in the unaccompanied baggage as well as the baggage with you. Retain the duplicate copy after the Customs Inspector has made his notations and certification thereon. Should this unaccompanied baggage contain dutiable articles, it will be sent to the Customs office nearest you "in bond" at which time present your copy of the declaration.

In the event that some of your baggage is to be returned by surface transportation, your overseas commander will take the necessary steps to comply with the directives on this subject (W.D. Memorandum W55-45-43). Make certain however, that you present your baggage declaration in duplicate and that it lists in detail all unaccompanied baggage regardless of the form of transportation used for the baggage which will follow after you.

9. Censorship:

No unnecessary personal communications including letters or films, should be carried by passengers. Should you have any communications make certain that you submit them to the Customs officials for their censorship. Failure to comply with this requirement will subject the offender to strict disciplinary action.

10. Currency Control:

The present regulation with regards to Currency Control limits incoming passengers to the amount of $50 in personal funds. It is therefore, suggested that all amounts in excess of that amount be converted to money orders or traveler's checks. Official funds carried by military passenger or crew members exempt from currency restrictions.

11. War Souvenirs:

Military personnel returning to the United States from theaters of operations may be permitted to bring back small items of enemy equipment excepting nameplates removed from captured equipment, items which contain any explosives, and such other items the usefulness of which in the service or the value as critical scrap material outweighs their value as trophies as determined by the theater commanders. In each case however, it will be necessary for the individual to have in his possession, a certificate in duplicate signed by his superior officer stating that the bearer is officially authorized by the theater commander to retain as his personal property the articles listed on the certificate. Failure to obtain this certificate, will result in the seizure of such articles by the United States Customs.

A final bit of advice, the public laws governing the exemptions from payment of duties by returning military personnel are extremely generous. Declare everything you have either bought or acquired while abroad. If you are one of the average you will probably not be required to pay any duties. Don't carry uncensored mail or films but if you do, submit them to the Customs and stay out of trouble.

12. Surrender of Orders:

Regulations require the surrender of five (5) copies of travel orders to the Debarkation Officer immediately upon arrival in the continental limits of the United States.

Two bottles of beer at the PX with Hakes and Kennard at 1600. Supper. Another small American beer--no Accra lager for me. A game of ping-pong. To Hakes hut where he broke out a short quart of CC, filled the Asmara dram cups. Hakes reads the letter of an old Sunday School teacher, age 74..."Three whole pages and doesn't mention herself once; totally selfless...This woman once told me about her lover when a student at Cornell College. They were engaged to be married, and he confessed to having had relations with other women. She said, I loved him, but I couldn't marry him. Once I asked her, If you had it to do over again would you marry this man. She said, I think I would. Now, he has given eighty thousand dollars to Cornell College in his old age, earmarked 'In Memory of the Girl I once Loved.' Kennard tells of his family troubles, his mother beating a dogcatcher to release his collie. "Before my mother got killed I slept with that dog, and it was alright....I don't know why she'd never have her picture taken. Had it taken the day she married and never again. She was like me, had a complex that way. After she got killed my father brought home a two-bit hore, said to me, Ken, here's your new mother. I just said uh-huh! I left home for two days, slept in a boat house down on the bay. I didn't care if my Father lived with this hore; he was just a no-good drunken bastard. But I didn't want her among my sisters....We went to live with my aunts. One six months with one side of the family, a half a year with the other. One presbyterian, the other catholic. I joined both churches. I was both, one at a time, six months a year....I don't want to be obligated to nobody. I owe you nothing, you owe me nothing...It all goes back to baseball....I used to play baseball. Never did like baseball, because it kept me from doing things other boys did. I was too good a player. I always had to play, got caught in with one team or another, and one season I made nine hundred dollars knocking balls around." Ken and Hakes are thick-tongued and weaving when I leave at 2200. I am cold sober; two jiggers has not touched me; the three beers were like water. I thought, There must be something psychological about this. If you don't want to get drunk, you don't, or else it would take much more than ordinarily required.

This morning Koerth said, "Are you scared today? It's Friday the thirteenth!"

Overheard: "I say all the damned niggers ought to be sent back to the Gold Coast! Hell, are you a nigger-lover? Well, why are you taking up for them."

Cail and Starr are for ever digging the plant bed around their hut. They are sticking four-o'clocks. They are cussing each other pleasantly, their normal banter.

T/Sgt Willie Looke brings his bottle of peppers, pickled in vinegar and olive oil. When we see Willie at the Mess the Society of the Peppercorns foregather. We dash our meat, say Yum-yum, blow our lips, cool our mouths with water, then eat more peppers. Said one, "You'd think we were damn Mexicans the way we eat this hot stuff. Fine chop! ...At Willie's hut I stop to play with the fruit monkey; he swings, jumps to my shoulder, searches in my pocket...Willie shows me pictures taken at a medical meeting at the Korle Bu Hospital--a protuding eye, pushed out by a tumor; a horrible face, the jaw half eaten away. On both faces there is a look of peace, placidity.

I sleep at "Storage"--Hut # 30, my own locked-up, private place. There's lightning afar. Wind snaps and cracks the glazed screens. The night bush sounds crowd nearly to the hut, a million leg rasps, flutters and back-snappings. A frog is making a base, oval sound...

SERVICE IN THE TROPICS

from The Bulletin of the U.S. Army Medical Department
Number 82 . November 1944

A report on the characteristics of men suitable for duty in the tropics and the criteria by which to select personnel in terms of mental health has been forwarded by Lieut. Colonel Baldwin L. Keyes, M. C., to The Surgeon General. The report is based on a survey of U. S. Army personnel in the Middle East and in Central and West Africa, including conferences and interviews with ill and potentially ill soldiers, with American and British officers, and with missionaries and others in these areas. A set plan of specific inquiries was followed in making the survey.

In the conclusions in this report it is said that a definite syndrome develops in northern men exposed to duty in the tropics for too long a period; that this tropical syndrome develops more rapidly in certain parts of the Middle East than in others, namely West and Central Africa and across southern Arabia, the Persian Gulf, and Iraq. There are types of men who suffer more quickly and more severely; others tolerate the unusual conditions much better.

Those who cannot tolerate the tropics well are men who have in their make-up some of the following characteristics:

The very blond develop skin lesions and sun sickness. The overweigh suffer from heat exhaustion and plethoric states. The emotionally unstable and those with other neurotic states cannot withstand hardships. Those with poor moral tone go lower, and disturb others in their groups. Those with rigid and intolerant philosophy cannot adapt themselves to the situation. The unsociable and seclusive do not get on well with their comrades or the natives. Those lacking in initiative and drive depend on all the rest to look after them. Those with poor mental or physical history in family or self are likely to break under the strain.

Those who tolerate tropical conditions best are men who possess most of the following characteristics:

Pigmented skin--the type which tans easily; lean or strong build; age under 35 years; good emotional stability, moral tone, and character; tolerance and adaptability toward changes in environment and people; sociability and friendliness; initiative, imagination, and resourcefulness; ability to plan things to do when work is slack; sufficient intelligence to carry out assigned individual tasks and to care for themselves in every way when alone; self-discipline, making it possible to live in accordance with all necessary precautions against tropical diseases; ability to retain perspective of need for continuing war and to recognize their part in accomplishing this fact; good mental and physical history in family and self.

The report notes a tendency to lose perspective in relation to the war by all men in isolated areas, particularly in the tropics. Not only individuals but groups begin to feel increasingly less significant and lose interest and understanding of the reasons why they are where they are. These factors lead to frustration, anxieties and emotional disturbances and seriously menace the mental health of men isolated in the tropics.

The changes reported noticeable in men too long in the tropics are a composite of all the discussions and are based on an almost complete unanimity of opinion in widely different areas and different circumstances.

The physical condition of such men is said always to be impaired, many have chronic dysentery or other disease, and almost all show chronic fatigue states.

They appear listless, unkempt, careless, and apathetic with almost masklike facial expression. Speech is slow, thought content is poor, they complain of chronic headaches, insomnia, memory defect, feel forgotten, worry about themselves, are afraid of new assignments, have no sense of responsibility, and are hopeless about the future.

The time required to develop the more severe syndrome varies with the individual and the area in which he is located. Changes may be seen in three months in small isolated units in the desert or jungle across Central Africa, while in larger units closer to towns they may go on for six months to a year. Even in the larger communities, the continued heat and other factors show their effects within twelve to eighteen months.

Prognosis varies with the severity of the condition. Most cases recognized early enough to be sent off promptly recover reasonably well. Cases with pronounced mental defect, disorganized thinking, lassitude, and indifference.

TREATMENT

The treatment of this tropical syndrome is said to be:

1. Frequent routine rotation within the theater.
2. Routine rotation to other than tropical areas.
3. Prompt removal from the tropics with the first indication of trouble.
4. Proper selection of personnel for duty in tropics.
5. Adequate and repeated evidences of need for the job assigned as part of war effort.
6. Readjustment on the basis that the situation of the soldier in the tropics is entirely different from that of the civilian who has a progressive, active job, a fixed rotation policy, and a schedule adjusted to the native tempo; or from that of the missionary, also on a fixed rotation basis and who has in addition a driving motive for his stay in the tropics and the compensation of an opportunity to create a new world about him.
7. Education in reference to the country and area in which men are stationed. This should include history, geopolitics, and sociologic, anthropologic, botanical, and other matters of interest to associate in a live way local problems with world problems.
